

System Architecture

Overview

The HDI Prediction System follows a layered architecture consisting of User Interface, Flask Application, Machine Learning Model, and Dataset.

Components

User Interface

Accepts socio-economic indicators from users.

Flask Backend

Processes requests and communicates with the ML model.

Machine Learning Model

Predicts the HDI category using trained data.

Dataset

Provides historical HDI data used for training.